Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

1. The information disclosure statement filed August 24, 2006 has been considered by the Examiner.

Claim Objections

2. Claim 6 is objected to because of the following informalities:

Claim 6 lines 2-3, "wherein the diameter at a free end of the first sealing member is smaller that the diameter of a free end of the second sealing member", confusing and unclear. The Drawings show that the diameter at a free end of the first sealing member is larger that the diameter of a free end of the second sealing member.

The Applicant should change in claim 6 line 2, "smaller" to --larger--. Appropriate correction is required.

Any further rejections of claim 6 in this office action are based on claim 6, as its is understood by the examiner

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Pallapothu (US 6,768,058).

Regarding claim 1, Pallapothu discloses a covering (10) for a cable entry device for providing sealing in a space between a cable (16) and a surrounding material (14), comprising first and second sealing members (34, 36) for receiving said material (14) therebetween formed by a recess in outer periphery of the covering (10), that wherein the covering (10) comprises means for temporarily receiving the second sealing member during insertion of the covering into a hole of said material (see figure 2).

Regarding claim 2, Pallapothu discloses a covering (10) wherein the means for temporarily receiving the second sealing member (36) comprises a recess of the covering having a depth corresponding to the thickness of the second sealing member (see figure 2).

Regarding claim 3, Pallapothu discloses a covering (10) wherein the means for temporarily receiving the sealing member (36) comprises an irregular surface (see figure 2) of the covering having a first (32) and a second portion (wall between the sealing member 36 and the first portion 32; see figure 1), the first portion (32) having a diameter corresponding to the diameter of the hole (see figure 1), to which the device is dimensioned for, and the diameter of the second portion (see figure 1) plus twice the thickness of the second sealing member (36) correspond to the diameter of said hole (see figure 2)

Regarding claim 4, Pallapothu discloses a covering (10) wherein the second portion (see figure 2) of the irregular portion will extend at least partially through the hole when inserted therein (see figure 2).

Regarding claim 5, Pallapothu discloses a covering (10), wherein the first and second sealing members (34, 36) are flexibly connected to the covering.

Regarding claim 6, Pallapothu discloses a covering (10), wherein the diameter at a free end of the first sealing member (34) is larger than the diameter of a free end of the second sealing member (36)

Regarding claim 7, Pallapothu discloses a covering (10), wherein the first sealing member (34) extends outwardly from a first end of the covering towards the second sealing member (36), and the second sealing member (36) extends outwardly from a second end of the covering towards the first sealing member (34).

Regarding claim 8, Pallapothu discloses a covering (10), wherein the first sealing member (34) provides a biasing force on the covering when inserted into a hole of the material (see figure 2).

Regarding claim 9, Pallapothu discloses a covering (10) wherein free ends of the first and second sealing members (34, 36) abut a first and a second side of a material, respectively, when inserted into a hole therein (see figure 2).

Regarding claim 10, Pallapothu discloses use of the covering (10) as a cable entry device (see figures 1 and 2).

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Okuhara (US 6,825,416), Uchida et al (US 6,685,195), Sato (US 6,727,432 and US 6,525,269), Ono et al (US 6,708,366), Hashimoto (US 6,675,439), Nakata (US 6,541,703), Nakata et al (US 6,489,559 and US 6,088,874), Kondoh et al (US 6,465,740), Uchida (US 6,339,196) and Yamada et al (US 6,297,457) disclose a covering for a cable entry.
